

Hiding and Seeking

Film Presentation and Discussion for Selihot

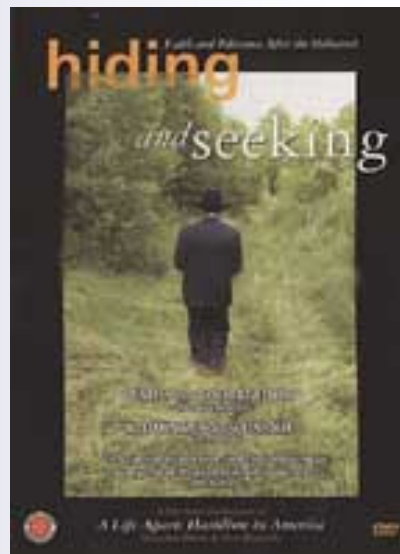

A joint program and worship experience with Temple Isaiah

Saturday night, September 20, at Temple Emunah

8:30 p.m. ~ Viewing of Hiding and Seeking

10:00 p.m. ~ Discussion and refreshments

10:30 p.m. ~ Selihot service

Selihot introduces us to the themes and melodies of the Yamim Nora'im, the Days of Awe. Our program features a powerful film, Hiding and Seeking, which raises the question of our capacity for goodness, a central focus of this time of year. Hiding and Seeking tells the emotional story of a Jewish father who journeys with his sons to Poland to try to find the Christian farmers who hid their families from certain death at the hands of the Nazis. Through their journey together, the family is transformed, learning that good and evil do not break down along sectarian lines.

Join us for the film and conversation, followed by an inspiring Selihot service led jointly by the spiritual leadership of Temple Emunah and Temple Isaiah.
